Methodology

Simple arithmetic mean where the total annual expenditure with disability pensions is divided by the total number of beneficiaries supported at the end of the calendar year.

The disability pension is a monthly transfer to eligible beneficiaries of social security scheme that are in a situation of a "disability". Disability is considered to be any incapacitating condition of non-professional cause that prevents people from working.

More information on this allowance/pension, including terms of allocation and method of calculating the amount receivable can be found here.

This is a fiscal cost.
